

“2010 Low Vision Technology Fair”

presented by

Northeastern Association of the Blind at Albany

301 Washington Avenue • Albany, New York 12206 • Phone: (518) 463-1211 • www.naba-vision.org

PURPOSE: Vendors and educators will be providing information, demonstrating devices, hardware and software that designed for helping those who are visually impaired lead more independent and rewarding lives

WHO SHOULD ATTEND: Visually impaired persons, as well as family, friends, caregivers, service providers, doctors, teachers, employers, technologists

Kingston, NY:	Sept. 15th - Kingston Holiday Inn, 503 Washington Avenue
Albany, NY:	Sept. 16th - Beltrone Living Center, 6 Winners Circle
Time:	9 a.m. to 3 p.m.
Cost:	FREE to the Public
Includes:	Hourly presentations, demonstrations and light refreshments!
Contact:	Cheryl Lawyer, NABA Outreach Coordinator at clawyer@naba-vision.org or (518) 463-1211 x234

Low Vision Technology Aids & Vision Rehabilitation Therapy

Many Americans with low vision have difficulty reading mail, shopping, cooking, watching TV and even reading this article. Challenges associated with vision loss can seem overwhelming at times.

Vision rehabilitation combines training, counseling and visual and adaptive devices to teach skills that can give people with low vision the confidence to function as independently as possible by maximizing their remaining sight.

Low vision technology and aids along with vision rehabilitation services help people adapt to their environments and learn new ways of doing things to improve their safety, independence and confidence. Most importantly, they can help people with low vision maintain their everyday activities and to continue to enjoy life.

NABA'S SERVICES

For over 100 years NABA, a non-profit organization, has been providing services and resources to the blind and visually impaired. Located at NABA's facility in Albany, the Dr. Harry M. Judge Vision Rehabilitation Center provides low vision services including vision exams for prescribing low vision aids, vision rehabilitation services, orientation and mobility training and counseling. Services are at no charge to the legally blind.

